Next to the main house is an additional cave with former chicken coops, offering enormous potential to be transformed into a second home, guest accommodation, or any other use according to the buyer's needs. Furthermore, the property boasts approximately 5,450 m² of land, with ample space for leisure, cultivation, animals, or personal projects.

Upon entering the house, you'll find a welcoming entrance. From this space, a hallway leads to two more bedrooms, a small pantry, and a very spacious kitchen with a fireplace, equipped with built-in cabinetry that lends it a rustic and traditional charm. Next to the kitchen is a large, spacious, and functional full bathroom.
