Charming farmhouse with land for sale in Lúcar, ideal for enjoying the countryside, tranquility, and quality time with family and friends. The property has good access, is very close to the village, and offers beautiful views of the surrounding natural landscape.

The farmhouse features a spacious living room with an integrated kitchen and fireplace, creating a cozy space perfect for gatherings, celebrations, and weekend getaways. It also includes a guest toilet, providing convenience for extended stays or events.

Outside, there is a barbecue, ideal for enjoying grilled meats and al fresco meals in a relaxed setting. The property includes its own plot of land, perfect for growing vegetables, as well as producing olive trees, adding value and potential to the property.

There is an irrigation pond that could easily be converted into a swimming pool, making the farmhouse a perfect place for leisure and relaxation during the summer months.

Its excellent location means it is just 5 minutes from the village, where you will find all the necessary amenities such as shops, a pharmacy, a medical clinic, and other essential services.

An ideal country house for personal enjoyment, celebrations, and countryside getaways, as well as for those seeking a property with land and multiple possibilities in a privileged natural setting.
