This beautiful three storey house could easily be rated as a small mansion house. Though it is in good conditions to move and live in it would require some refurbishment to make it a really comfortable and up to date house.

The floor tiles of some rooms are handmade, authentic and really old, but in fantastic conditions. Some rooms have original and beautiful ceilings with wooden beams. The staircase stairs are made of white marble. The ceilings are high, plenty of natural light and fantastic views from the top terrace and some rooms. Though it has not got a private parking it is not an issue in that area. The distribution of the house is appealing and comfortable.

Off the main door of the property we access the lower ground floor where the kitchen with open fireplace is and small cave in very good conditions and for any use. This gives a lot of character to this property.
